

The road to the Alltech FEI European Jumping & Dressage Championships 2009

Day 32

Organisers would like to confirm that contrary to popular rumour, there are still season tickets available for the Alltech FEI European Championships 2009. Season tickets can be purchased to cover all Dressage performances, all Jumping performances or both.

As an added incentive, organisers have built an exclusive 'season ticket holders only' bar – in a very unconventional location!

The new season ticket holders bar will be set within obstacle 5 of the driving course, used at Royal Windsor Horse Show. The obstacle is usually used as part of the marathon phase of The Land Rover International Driving Grand Prix at the Horse show, but swaps horses for people at these Championships!

The obstacle aptly named "Go Beyond" certainly hopes to go beyond anyone's expectation, with the quirky bar maintaining the events overall theme of 'An English Country Garden.' It even includes its own bridges! With an umbrella bar, tables and chairs this private area will offer season ticket holders the chance to explore this unique part of the showground.

32 days and counting!
